Opulent, naturally!

The ADONEA wallpaper collection exudes a new kind of ambiance

Restraint is a thing of the past: after years of simplicity, a little more extravagance is the order of the day once more. A little more home comfort. A touch more ornamentation and decoration in – and on – your own four walls. Not overly pompous. Yet still atmospheric.

Creating a new kind of ambiance supported perfectly by the ADONEA collection of the Hohenberger wallpaper manufactory. ADONEA is naturally opulent and translates natural colours – fire, water, earth – into small fine patterns as well as large Greek-inspired ornaments. The wallpaper also boasts gold, brass and bronze accents. Foam ornaments, glitter and glass beads ensure that the wall coverings not only look great, but also feel good.

You'll have to decide for yourself just how far you want ADONEA's naturally opulent ambiance to go. Six designs in multiple colour moods can be used individually or combined into an extravagant whole.

About the Hohenberger wallpaper manufactory

Now in the third generation, the Taubert family is still producing wallcoverings with a lot of craftsmanship and great attention to detail. In addition to being 100% PVC-free, wallpapers from Hohenberg are produced particularly sustainable and exclusively in Germany. They adorn castles and museums, bars and lounges, hotels and offices, shops and apartments – not only in Germany but around the world. At Heimtextil 2019, Taubert is set to present a total of three new collections.
